Lisa Campbell Wins Primary to Become the First Woman as Democratic Nominee for Ga. House District 35

Pledging to leverage her leadership experience and advocate for all Georgians, the business and community leader avoids run-off with 60%+ votes

ATLANTA, (June 4, 2022) — On Friday, Cobb County business owner and community leader Lisa Campbell officially won the Democratic primary for the District 35 State House of Representatives seat at the Georgia State Capitol. Campbell aims to become the first woman to represent the district and has officially become the Democratic nominee.

"I'm running because the people of Georgia's 35th District deserve a representative who will serve with integrity, honesty and lead with inclusive, transparent governance practices," said Campbell. "I will work collaboratively with leaders to make Georgia a place where everyone's voices are heard, our votes matter and everyone has a seat at the table. I look forward to putting my collaborative leadership experience to work at The Gold Dome, where I pledge to work toward a healthier, safer, and more inclusive Georgia for all."

"As we head toward Election Day, I'm excited to continue listening to and meeting people throughout our community," said Campbell.

"I welcome all to join our campaign volunteer team to help get the vote out. Together, we'll take our district forward with unity, inclusivity and opportunity, building a better Georgia for all."

A native of Cobb County, Campbell has worked as a strategic business consultant for more than 30 years, creating coalitions to build distinctive brands, launch new technologies and inspire communities. Campbell has also volunteered and worked with organizations like Hands On Atlanta, InCommunity, The United Way, Atlanta History Center and Georgia Conservancy.
